DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1 and 3-6, drawn to a method of screening for small organic molecules that directly inhibit the interaction of glycosaminoglycans.

Group II, claim(s) 7-9 and 22-23, drawn to a method of treatment or prevention of disorders related to virus, bacteria or parasite attachment and entry with the administration of a compound that directly inhibits the interaction of glycosaminoglycans in a subject in need thereof.

Group III, claims 10-18, drawn to a pharmaceutical composition of formula Ia or Ib.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The technical feature shared among the groups is compound that directly inhibits the interaction of glycosaminoglycans. This shared technical feature does not provide a contribution over the prior art, as evidenced by Copp et al.<sup>1</sup> Copp et al. teaches of compound that directly inhibits the interaction of glycosaminoglycans and has the general formula of formula I. In the absence of a contribution over the prior art, the inventions lack a shared special technical feature. Without a shared special technical feature, the inventions lack unity with one another.

Art Unit: 1648

The special technical feature of the inventions listed as Group I-II is the utility and active method steps recited therein. The special technical feature differs from one another. In the absence of a shared special technical feature, the inventions listed as Groups I-II lack unity with one another.

Regarding Group II, in the instance Applicant elects this group, Applicant must further elect virus, bacteria or parasite. This is not a species election. Virus, bacteria and parasite do not share a common utility nor have significant structural similarities. Therefore, they lack unity with one another. If Applicant elects virus, Applicant must elect a virus recited in claims 8 or 23. The viruses recited in claims 8 or 23 do not share a common utility nor have significant structural similarities. Therefore, they lack unity with one another.

Regarding Group III, in the instance Applicant elects this group, Applicant must further elect between the formula Ia or Ib. This is not a species election. Formulas Ia and Ib do not have significant structural similarities with one another. In the absence of such, the formulas lack unity with one another.

3. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder.

All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
